

Santa Fe School for the Arts and Sciences Capital Campaign
Donor Engagement Tool

1999: A group of inspired parents and educators create a school where children from all walks of life feel respected and love to learn

Today: SFSAS is recognized nationally by the likes of Harvard University and TheBestSchools.org.

Our Goal: Expand and upgrade our facilities to increase our programming, capacity, and outreach.

1000 Day Priorities:

A New Middle School Building: Four new classrooms plus additional arts, science and administrative spaces.

- We don't have enough room!
- New programming to prepare students for tomorrow's world.
- Space for schoolwide and community events
- No more copiers, storage and office supplies in administrators' offices

Renovation of Barcelona Blue and Middle Earth Buildings

- New visual arts, film, drama and movement capacities
- Creation of an Early Childhood Center
- Upgrade technology instruction

A Safe, Beautiful Campus

- Beautify outdoor space to enhance learning
- Relocate elementary playground
- New parking and upgraded lighting

Goal:

Our long-term X-year goal is to build a new facility for the Middle School, repurpose space in the current building and revitalize outdoor spaces

Phase 1

Prepare Campus-wide Master Plan (already done!)

Secure $550,000 in seed money (already done!)

Assemble a Request for Proposal (already done!)

Our Mission:

To achieve academic excellence in an environment of respect, inclusion and diversity, utilizing Expeditionary Learning, global perspectives and a multicultural arts and sciences enriched curriculum.

Our Philosophy:

“Education begins with respect for children and an appreciation for who they already are. Intelligence arises when children are given opportunities to engage not only their heads, but their hands and hearts as well. In this way, students become balanced, integrated and harmonious human beings.”
